

Ambler Savings Bank Donates to Spring-Ford High School TV Studio

LIMERICK – Ambler Savings Bank Retail Officer, Erin Cohen, and Limerick Branch Manager, Becky Dice, presented the Spring-Ford School District with a check for $5,000, which will be used to enhance the high school TV Studio.

In the 2015-16 school year, 140 students took the Broadcast class in the TV Studio at the high school. The class teaches studio production, which includes directing, technical directing, and studio camera; and field production, which includes field shooting, and post production editing.

Student projects throughout the year include studio shows, short films, stop motion animation, music videos and interviews. Students also produce a video year book of activities from the school year.

The money will be used to purchase new DSLR cameras for student use. Additional equipment, including: Lenses, extra batteries, audio equipment and mono pods for the new cameras, will also be purchased. The cameras are the same as those being used at the college level and in the broadcast field.

“The TV studio at Spring-Ford reflects our commitment to advancing 21st century education in our community. The program helps to prepare our future leaders and benefits Spring-Ford students, families and our community,” said Erin Cohen, Retail Officer for Ambler Savings Bank. “Ambler Savings Bank is proud to continue and grow our relationship with Spring-Ford School District.”

Ambler Savings Bank, headquartered in Ambler, PA, has locations in Limerick, Schwenksville and Fairview Village.

Pictured: (from left) Dr. David Goodin, Spring-Ford School District Superintendent; Becky Dice, Ambler Savings Bank Limerick Branch Manager; Erin Cohen, Ambler Savings Bank Retail Officer; James Fink, Spring-Ford School District CFO; and Steve Bonetz, TV Programming Specialist at Spring-Ford High School.